

DISCOVERIES MADE UPON RE-READING THOMAS BERRY'S LATER BOOKS

The focus of this issue of The Ecozoic Review is on Thomas Berry's later books. Herman Greene's review of these books is extensive and somewhat complex. This outline may help the reader in studying this review:

The Event [of Experiencing the Time-Developmental Universe]

The Explanation [of Thomas Berry's Functional Cosmology/New Story]

Message to Religious Communities: It Takes a Universe

The Covenant of the Universe

The Going Out: The Long Period of Alienation

The Six Transcendences

The Bible, Greek Humanism and Roman Law

The Third Mediation: Berry's Thought and an Expanded Interpretation

The Coming Home Again: The Ecological Age

The Long Secular Meditation of Science

The New Scientific Cosmology

The New Philosophical Cosmology: Combining Science, Philosophy, and Theology

The New Functional Cosmology

The New Story

Applying the New Story

The Reform of Religion

The Reform of Law

Application of the New Story in General