

Contributors to This Issue

Jim Berry

was the founder of the Center for Reflection on the Second Law in Raleigh, NC. He believed that we should take as little from the Earth as we can and we should nurture all life forms. He was a brother of Thomas Berry and passed away in 1997.

Thomas Berry

geologist and the author of The Great Work: Our Way into the Future. He may be reached by contacting CES.

Dave Cook

is a naturalist and author of the recently published Piedmont Almanac. He lives on the edge of Carrboro, NC, where woodcocks still fly in silhouette across March twilights, the whip-poor-wills sing in early summer, and pennywort and wild comfrey grow.

Herman F. Greene

is the Director of the Center for Ecozoic Studies and an attorney. He resides in Chapel Hill, NC, and may be contacted at hfgreene@mindspring.com.

Marilyn Hardy, M.S.

has been in the fields of Somatic Education and Counseling for over 20 years. The influence of Ecopsychology is now taking her work toward the interface between personal and planetary healing and the arts. She lives in Topsham, ME, and can be contacted at marilynhardy@gwi.net.

A.J. Lewis

lives with his Chief, Gardener and mate Suzanne 120 miles north of Albuquerque, NM. Al studied at Tufts Theological and Starr-King School for the Ministry, and gained his doctorate from the University of Paris, France. He has taught at universities in the U.S. and abroad and has traveled widely. He may be reached at alsucr@laplaza.org.

Julie Purcell, Th.M.

ordained United Methodist minister, psychotherapist, and spiritual director, leads retreats with her husband, Ted Purcell, D.Min. Can be contacted at forjuls@aol.com.

Dirk Spruyt

retired public health physician with interests in long-term biosphere diversity, bioregional carrying capacity and human survival, 98 Maxwell Rd., Chapel Hill, NC 27517, (919) 967-4746 naturalist, author, artist, and puppeteer who has a spirituality center called Sow Love Reap Joy Farm at Synapse In The Core and may be reached by writing CES.

Tom Stock

Jennie Baumeister

designed and published this issue of The Ecozoic Reader. She is a graphics and print manager.

Submissions for Publication

We invite you to share with us your thoughts, poetry, art, music, dance, ritual, meditation, story or dream experience of the Ecozoic Era and your insights on how to realize it.

To submit an item for publication, send a printed copy of the item and the electronic file(s) on diskette (formatted for PC) to Center for Ecozoic Studies, 2516 Winningham Road, Chapel Hill, NC 27516, USA. Or e-mail your submission to ecozoic@mindspring.com. Please send your contact information and a brief biography. Publication guidelines are available at www.ecozoicstudies.org.